FOREWORD

As the "Pioneers" of the past settled, established themselves; then pressed further into the wilderness, striving for knowledge and higher ideals; just so, you will be borne further away from the scene of your college experiences as the years pass. As you go, new friendships will be formed, but none will be so sincere and lasting as those found upon the campus and in the halls of your Alma Mater. May memories of times gone by and the desire to do your part in aiding your fellowman, be burned deeply in your heart as you turn the pages of this Yearbook.

TO THE MEMORY OF

JAMES ROOD ROBERTSON, Ph.D., Litt.D.

IN GRATITUDE FOR HIS SERVICE AND LOYALTY TO BEREA AS SCHOLAR, HISTORIAN, TEACHER, FRIEND. FOR TWENTY-FIVE YEARS, HE WALKED AMONG US, SHARING WITH US THE GIFTS OF HIS DISCIPLINED MIND AND OF HIS CHIVALROUS MANHOOD. HE ASKED NO REWARD. WE GAVE HIM OUR REVERENT REGARD. IN AFFECTION WE CALLED HIM "DADDY BOB."

DIED FEBRUARY 12, 1932

A true pal, a loyal friend and a devoted Christian girl. She has gone from our campus, yet her influence will always live; for she lived a life of noble principles and high ideals.

PRESIDENT WILLIAM J. HUTCHINS

DEAN T. A. HENDRICKS

With the increase in enrollment of the College there arises a need for organized personal contact. For this purpose the office of the Dean exists. At first the primary function of the Dean was to enter into the lives of the students and to dispense moral and intellectual advice. Later it became necessary to enforce the rules and regulations prescribed by the Administration and Faculty, therefore considering the Dean as the disciplinarian.

Perhaps the greatest responsibility of the Dean at present is to reduce, or keep at a minimum the number of college failures, especially among freshmen and sophomores. With this also goes the responsibility of assigning men to dormitories, regard to health, control of social and moral environment in cooperation with the Dean of Women, and most of all he must assist in the solution of the problems peculiar to the individual student.

In his many relations with the men of the campus it is always the intent of the Dean to give human rather than an official contact. No two problems are exactly alike, and if they were the diversity of human nature would not permit the solution of one to be applicable to the other. Hence, the office of the Dean is a clinic where the peculiar problems of the students are sympathetically considered. Some collegiate "campus philosopher" has been led to say humorously that "when a man has learned less and less about more and more until at last he knows nothing about everything he may become Dean of Men."

DEAN MARY E. WELSH

Miss Welsh came to Berea in 1902 and began her work as teacher of Greek, Latin, English Grammar and Bible. She counts it her greatest contribution to Berea that through the long years of poverty and struggle, she was able to help build a "college in the making." Those who know her as a teacher of Art, testify that she inspired them with a love for the classics and a sense of beauty for the original. Miss Welsh became Dean of College Women in 1918, serving in that capacity until her retirement this year. It has been her great joy to see the college she loved and served for thirty years grow into an institution of great influence. Many girls who know her and admire her as Dean, have come away from an interview, conscious of having found a real "Friend." They have had glimpses into the soul of a strong woman—all made for finer living. May memories of happy relations with faculty and students go with her to her Boothbay home. She can say with President Elliot, writing to a friend in his ripened years:

"Yet in our autumn boughs unflown with spring
The evening thrushes sing."

CLASS
'32

"PROGRESS"

Softly play the Chimes at sunrise,
Drape the halls with boughs of yew;
For today we bid sad farewell
To the class of thirty-two.

We have seen some mighty changes,
Both in things and in the clime,
While we've been upon these ridges
Serving our four years of time.

We helped build the men's gymnasium
Where the mighty "Mountaineers"
Have trained themselves to win the victory;
Have triumphed over all their peers.

Then we saw the "Tabernacle;
Transformed a few years later
By the work of Professor Raine
Into "The Little Theatre."

There's the brand new Presser Hall:
For years Professor Rigby's goal,
Where that mighty building stands,
When we came here was just a hole.

Lots of noise has come among us;
There's our "Talkie," it's a scream,
But it is easily drowned out
By that new fire siren.

Then our "Prexy" went to India
To help the Education cause;
To teach the little Indians
Not to break the English laws.

While he was away,
With permission of his spouse
We moved away the old one
And built a new President's House.

But prohibition sure hit us;
For a year we were so dry
That the lake lost all it's water,
And the fish began to die.

But we proved that we were soldiers;
We met the crisis with a grin,
Just put a pipe across the mountain
And pumped a little water in.

Though the sun almost stopped shining;
Our friend "H. E." ne'er despaired.
He had them build another dam,
So next time we'd be prepared.

But the saddest of the events
That has come within our day,
Was last year at commencement time
When "Dear Old Normal" passed away.

But of all the mighty things
Which Berea has or e'er will do;
That of which she'll be the proudest
Is graduating the "Class of thirty-two."

WOMEN'S FORENSICS

With great enthusiasm the women debaters of 1932 discussed whether or not Congress should enact legislation providing for centralized control of industry. Debates were held with teams in Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, and Ohio.

Two debates were held in Berea, one with Maryville College, the other with the University of Cincinnati. The negative team traveled to Morehead State Teachers College, and then toured to Lexington to meet with the affirmative team of Transylvania. The affirmative team then visited Maryville College and from there they traveled to Asheville, North Carolina, to discuss the important question with the Asheville Normal School.

Perhaps the most interesting discussion was with the University of Cincinnati, when the Oregon Style of debating was used for the first time on our campus.

The affirmative team was composed of Harriet Gates and Bina Scott; the negative team of Evelyn Setzer and Irene Pennington.

In the Home Oratorical Contest Marion Holcomb placed first and Edna Johnson second. Then, to go further, the State Oratorical Contest was won by Marion Holcomb. Edna Johnson also represented Berea in the Triangular Contest held at Asbury College.

The high point medal was won by Ruth Goodman.

MEN'S FORENSICS

This year's debating program has been one of the most extensive in the history of Berea. The question discussed was: Resolved that Congress should enact legislation providing for centralized control of industry. The affirmative team was composed of Walter Brown, Jason Wilson, Allen Ledford, Virgil Smith; the negative team of Clarence Gilbert, Daniel Eutsler, Paul Booher, Gilbert Lycan.

The teams traveled in Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, and Indiana, debating Centre College, Union College, Maryville College and Asheville Normal School. Those teams entertained at Berea ranged from Colby College in Maine to the University of Florida, including Birmingham-Southern, the University of Kentucky, University of Louisville, and Waynesburg College.

Fred Eutsler placed first in the Home Peace Oratorical Contest, and second in the State Contest, which was held at Berea. First place in the Home Oratorical Contest was won by Francis Shouse. To commemorate the Bicentennial of Washinghton's birth, an oratorical contest was held, which was won by Jerome Helton.

This year Berea was represented for the first time at Tau Kappa Alpha Regional Convention held at Purdue University. One of the high points of the season was reached when Clarence Gilbert placed second in extemporaneous speaking at this convention.

The high point medal was won by Daniel Dodge Eutsler.

The YMCA is an organization that advocates a religion which compels a student to see his friend in a new light, finding his sympathies deepened to include all boys as comrades. The "Y" insists on a religion which enables a student to find reinforcement from loyal comradeship with God, and thus make his personality whole. The "Y" stands for a religion which promotes the full development physically, mentally, and spiritually of those who would seek companionship with Jesus.

THE CHIMES

The Chimes is published by the senior class through the efforts of an Editor and Business Manager elected by the class.

The theme is historical, commemorating the Washington Bicentennial. All layouts were planned and all mountings done by the art editor and her assistants.

The purpose of this book is to give a record of the days spent upon the campus, and as you turn its pages may you think of those times when life was a real pleasure. This is a yearbook in which things are written down in a way that they can be remembered as the years move on and as the students go from the scene of their college experience.

It is the hope of the staff that this publication may, in some way meet your approval, bringing back memories of the campus and of the happiest days you ever spent. No friendships can be formed that will outlive those made here. As you glance through this book in the future may you live again those happy days. The Senior Class now leaves you, with the hope that your dearest treasure will be hidden, and later disclosed in this, the 1932 Chimes.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The history of the Music Department is almost as long as that of Berea College itself, and it goes without saying that the growth and development of music coincides largely with the phenomenal progress of this truly wonderful institution.

Prof. Ralph Rigby

Looking back more than thirty years in what may seem the dim past, we find there was much thorough music work being done, even though the material equipment was meager.

The department then was housed in a quaint little building which contained three rather poor pianos and two cabinet organs. The music faculty consisted of two teachers. One woman, who was head of the instrumental department; and the other, a man, who was voice teacher, and "Lord High Everything Else." These two enthusiastic young workers soon found that the so-called "mountain boys and girls" could do anything in the line of music that any group of bright young students anywhere could do. There was a good Men's Glee Club in 1906 which gave creditable concerts in and around Berea. If you don't think so, ask Clyde Stillwell, who was treasurer of the club, or if he does not answer you write to "Buck" Wheat or "Bud" Eastman.

By 1913 the department had grown so large that it was spreading all over the campus, and so in the words of President-emeritus William G. Frost "The old Congregational Church was converted into a Music Hall."

Needless to say e'er this time other teachers were required to care for the ever growing music department. It would not do to call the roll of all the teachers of more than thirty years, but we can say that the work of those teachers has constantly improved.

The dedication in 1931 of our new Presser Music Hall with the beautiful Gray Auditorium was a glorious consummation of a dream we had hardly dared to anticipate. This marks the end of our first year of occupancy of this splendid building, and we are still thrilled with the comfort and convenience of its spacious halls.

Now as a climax to all of these great achievements we can offer music major courses in college. Think of it, a B.A. with twenty-eight hours of credit for music! Well, another dream has come true.

ALUMNI

PURPOSE

The Alumni Association of Berea College is an organization of graduates and former students of the College and graduates of the Allied Schools. It is the purpose of the organization to promote at all times the best interests of Berea College, and to maintain a mutually beneficial relationship between Berea College, its Allied Schools, and their graduates and former students.

MEMBERS

The following groups are eligible for membership: 1. The recipients of all degrees, heretofore or hereafter granted. 2. Former students of the college may become members of the Association after the graduation of the class with which they were last connected. 3. Graduates of the Secondary Schools allied to Berea College may become associate members of the organization, an affiliation which entitles them to regular membership in their respective school association.

DUES

All who are eligible may become members of the Alumni Association by the payment of such dues as have been designated. These dues may be paid directly or they may be paid through the Berea Bonds of Loyalty. These are attractive bonds in the denomination of fifty dollars stipulating that the holder will pay ten dollars a year for a period of five years. While the bonds offer an excellent method of contributing to both the College and the Alumni Association, no one should fail to make himself a part of the paid-up membership because he does not wish to bind himself in this way. All are welcome, regardless of the amount of dues they may choose to pay.

CLUBS

There are a number of loosely organized Berea Clubs scattered throughout the country in which graduates and former students are keeping alive the friendships formed on the campus, or making new ones upon the basis that one Berean has so many things in common with every other Berean. Each of these clubs welcomes into its membership those who reside in its respective territory. Newcomers into the localities where these clubs are located will be welcomed at all meetings with a hearty handshake in which the beat of a Berea Heart is always felt. The Alumni Office is always at your service in making Berea contacts.

IN THE SERVICE OF BOTH COLLEGE AND ALUMNI

While built upon deep underlying college sentiment, the Alumni Association aims to be of distinct service to its members and to the College. To this end an office is maintained where valuable address lists are kept; historical and statistical material is continually being gathered about the alumni; news of interest to alumni is gathered and distributed to members of the Association through the Berea Alumnus; an appointment bureau is maintained for the service of graduates; the Alumni College is maintained each year in the interest of aiding those who wish to "keep" educated. The Alumni Office has fast become a clearing house for all kinds of alumni relations; and every year new ways are sought through which the office may contribute to the welfare of both College and Alumni.

BASKETBALL SEASON

This year's squad of Berea Mountaineers lived up to all past records and in many ways surpassed the most fond expectations held by those who annually predict the destinies of the Blue and White. It is not an easy task to make the fans forget a championship team of a previous year. This is what Coach Gunkler and an inexperienced squad of Sophomores and substitutes from the tournament-winning team did. Captain Gardner was the only piece of first string material salvaged from the graduating wreck of '31. Along with Gardner, were Arrants, Bennett, and Dyar; these boys were left to carry on where the champions had left off. The only bright spot in this otherwise dismal situation was the Sophomores who were coming up from Freshman ranks where they had made such an impressive record.

From early in November, Coach Gunkler started to work on this heterogenous assortment of basketball odds and ends in an effort to mould a team that would live up to past performances of Berea teams. This task at first seemed almost hopeless; the shortage of material, the frequency of injuries, and the fact that the newcomers must learn a new system of play made some wonder if the boys could hope to win over one or two games during the season. At first, this pessimistic attitude seemed fully justified. The new system did come hard, their floor work was ragged, defensive play was loose and unorganized, their defense was too erratic to warrant much success.

Evans

Gardner

Their first performance was against the strong Alumni team. With four former All-State men, Wright, Wyatt, Harlowe, and Maggard in the lineup, the Alumni five experienced little difficulty in brushing aside the bewildered Mountaineers by the count of 37-22.

December 23 saw Berea encounter their toughest opposition, the powerful Kentucky Wildcats. In a 52-27 defeat, the locals did show flashes of real basketball ability.

Sharpton

Dyar

The first S.I.A.A. opponent was the Centre Colonels. In this game, Berea displayed the poorest form of the whole season, and Centre scored a rather easy 26-20 victory.

The Georgetown team was defeated for Berea's first S.I.A.A. victory and also their first win of the season. Berea showed good basketball in this game and deserved an even greater margin than the 25-24 score indicated.

Next, Ed Diddle's Western teachers came to town seeking revenge for the unexpected drubbing given them by Berea in the tournament the previous year. Their ambitions were realized, but only after one of the most fiercely contested battles seen here in many years. The final count was 26-25 with the visitors holding the slim advantage.

Eastern, an arch-rival of Berea, was the next to match skill with the improving Mountaineers, and before a crowded gym of hardwood enthusiasts, the Maroons managed to eke out a well-earned 26-22 win. Berea displayed an excellent brand of ball and gave promise of turning the tables when the two met again.

Then followed Transylvania, who was given a neat 27-21 trimming in Lexington.

Wesleyan was fortunate enough to drop in a field goal from mid-floor in the last seconds of play to nose out Berea 26-25, after Berea had led the Methodists all the way.

The return game with Georgetown proved an easy victory as the entire team threw in baskets from all angles to swamp the helpless Tigers under a 43-13 deluge.

A return game with Eastern at Richmond was equally as disastrous as the first meeting. Berea played poor basketball; the alert Eastern quintet grabbed many scoring opportunities to roll up a 35-25 tally as the final gun sounded.

Hatcher

After this setback Berea seemed to hit its natural stride. Starting with Wesleyan, who was beaten 34-22 in a return game, they finished their schedule without a loss.

A 24-19 defeat of Louisville created a great upset, since the Cardinals had been practically invincible on their home floor.

In the final scheduled S.I.A.A encounter, Berea beat Centre 32-25 at Danville, to redeem herself for her loss earlier in the season to the same team and also to bring the final record to read: Berea, won 6; lost 5.

Berea's tournament record was also rather inpressive. She defeated the strong Louisville team 22-21 in the opening round. In the second game she played Eastern to a standstill until late in the last half when her defense collapsed momentarily and allowed Eastern to drop in a few easy shots to cinch the game, 36-28.

Sharpton was honored on the All-Tournament team. After playing a good game against Louisville, he put on a phenomenal exhibition of all around prowress against Eastern, scoring thirteen points, and almost single-handed kept Berea close to her ancient rival.

Too much credit cannot be given to Coach Gunkler and his fighting crew of Mountaineers. They started with the most discouraging conditions, and through hard work and tireless application whipped themselves into a team that was second to none, as the season drew to a close. All of those who stuck by the team felt that this squad of Berea Mountaineers was a worthy group to carry on where those immortals of 1931 had left off.

VARSITY TENNIS

The Varsity racqueteers, although displaying nothing spectacular, did make a fair showing this year considering the handicaps under which they were laboring. The loss of four first ranking players from the team of '31 left only two regulars around which to build the team; Kelley and Combs being the only survivors. Mullins, Arnett, Meriwether, and Kauth, newcomers to the squad, did good work and were showing great improvement as the season drew to a close.

The lack of suitable weather conditions kept the men from getting the practice necessary to carry them through a rather long and difficult schedule. The courts were constantly wet and frequent rains prevented the use of them very much in the earlier part of the season. But after the weather man did open up, the players soon hit their natural stride and made the going tough for all opponents.

The ill-conditioned Berea netmen were badly outclassed in their first three starts with Centre, Wheaton, and University of Kentucky, but gave Cumberland College two setbacks to show their followers that they were capable of winning when playing up to form.

The loss of Capt. Kelley, who has served three years on the team, Mullins and Meriwether, will hurt the prospects for next year; but with Combs, Arnett, and Kauth, with a year's collegiate competition to their credit, the outlook now seems rather bright.

The season schedule: Berea 1, Centre 5; Berea 0, Wheaton 7; Berea 2, Kentucky 7; Berea 0, Kentucky 6; Berea 8, Cumberland 1; Berea 7, Cumberland 1; Berea 2, Centre 5; Berea, 3 Eastern 0.

VARSITY TRACK

Berea was probably represented this year by the most talented collection of trackmen ever to wear the Blue and White. Under the tutelage of "Swede" Nettinga, the thin-clad warriors made one of the most impressive records in Berea track history. In Dodson, Wyatt, and Evans, Coach Nettinga had three of the classiest performers in the state. Bennett, Culbertson, Hayes, Stevens, Combs, White, Hatcher, Frasier, Kelly, and Taylor gave this trio noble assistance in every meet to help the Mountaineers out in front. Captain Dyar was counted upon to add points in the pole vault and field events, but a painful leg injury sustained early in the season made him unable to compete.

Although rather weak in the dashes, the Bereans made up this weakness by their unusual strength in the hurdles, pole vault, javelin, half-mile, mile, and two mile.

The team got off to a rather poor start, due mostly to cold weather and injuries. After the first meet with Centre was rained out, the squad went to Lexington and made only a fair showing against U. of K. The score was 101½-29 with the Wildcats holding the advantage. Berea found the soft cinder track very much to their dislike, and their performances were not up to par. The first triangular competition was at Georgetown. In this meet, Berea was beaten out of first place by a technical ruling insisted upon by Centre. Our team won the relay, the final event, but was disqualified when Centre protested the legality of the race. The final standing gave Centre 58, Berea 55, and Georgetown 29. Dodson was the individual performer and collected 15 points for high honors.

Berea reaped full revenge for this defeat when they nosed out Centre in the triangular meet at Louisville by a single point, Berea 54 1-3, Centre 53 1-3, and Louisville 24 1-3. Wyatt and Dodson were the shining lights in this victory, collecting 17 1-4 and 13 points respectively.

Culbertson, star weight man, is the only member to be lost by graduation, and with a number of promising freshmen coming up, the prospects for next year appear unusually rosy.

COLLEGE ATHLETICS

This year saw intra-mural sports reach their peak in the College department. Never before has there been such interest in athletic work. The unusually fine program made possible by the tireless efforts of Prof. Quimby, Coach Gunkler, and many student assistants gave everyone a chance to enter into some phase of activity.

The minor sports such as speedball, handball, volleyball, and swimming flourished immensely and gave signs of even replacing some of the major sports, heretofore so firmly established.

The College carried off their share of laurels in all lines of competition.

The Varsity football team tied with the Academy for the school championship. The Freshmen, although unable to register a single win, did give both the Varsity and Academy real opposition.

The speedball halo was annexed by the College team when they turned back their Academy rivals in the deciding game.

The cross-country team was very strong this year. Due to the lack of opposition, the harriers never had a chance to display their true skill.

The Freshmen team was the only one to represent the department in basketball, since the Varsity is not eligible for competition. One of the most powerful Freshmen teams in the state represented our department. They won the school championship without great difficulty, and defeated the Georgetown yearlings, after dropping two close games to the Eastern Frosh.

The yearling tracksters were not very strong, but did have one fine performer in Carter who carried off many points both at Georgetown and Louisville in the triangular meets.

Both Varsity and Freshmen were represented with strong baseball teams.

Volleyball, swimming, and tennis rounded out the athletic menu of 1931-32, in which the department gathered their share of glory.

BEREA COLLEGE WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Each year the Women's Athletic Association is becoming a more vital factor in the lives of the Berea College women. The president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer are elected in the spring by the active members of the association. In the fall these officers choose the managers of the different sports. All the activities in the association are sponsored by this large Board.

The changing of the point system and the awards has made the association have a new meaning to its members. The award for 300 points earned is class numerals, for 800 points a Berea B and for 1100 points an emblem. The final award was just recently adopted by the Board members. It is a very attractive seal to be worn on a blazer. The design was created by members of the association and the emblem itself woven by a student in the Fireside Industries. There is special significance to the earning of the seal in that it necessitates the consistent effort of three years in many different activities.

Field hockey is distinctly a fall sport while tennis and archery are fall and spring sports. Due to the increased ability among the archers, this year Berea College will enter a telegraphic meet sponsored by several women's colleges.

Basketball holds the record for participants. This year the Freshmen, Sophomores and Upperclassmen each had a team and when the Academy team was added to the group a very close and exciting Round Robin had the Sophomore team as its victor.

Swimming and hiking are all year around activities and have their ardent followers. By the end of the school year many girls will have a hiking record of more than two hundred miles.

The officers and members are proud to have been able to help make this year one of the most successful years the College Women's Athletic Association has ever had.

RED CROSS LIFE SAVERS

Life saving is an educational program and covers the following essentials:

a. The general knowledge of safe practices in and about the water.
b. The skill and training necessary for the rescue of persons in danger of drowning.
c. The method and technique used in resuscitation of persons apparently drowned.

Its purpose is to make water sports safe while at the same time retaining the zest and thrill and to avoid accidents through a proper understanding of the hazards involved and the measures to be taken.

These girls passed the required tests during this past year and are now members of the Red Cross Life Saving Corps.

Red Cross Examiners: Margaret Coates, Bernice Hamm, Helene Runnion.

Senior Life Savers: Mabel Best, Ann Elliott, Seleta Cameron, Janet Morton, Axon Rodes, and Frances Cooper.

Junior Life Savers: Jeanette Huntington, Betty Steenrod.

ACTIVITIES

The year 1931-32 has been one of the most successful in the history of the Academy.

Under the auspices of Mrs. J. N. Peck, the Literary Societies of the Academy campus have sponsored many interesting contests. Perhaps the most outstanding personage in all these contests was Janet Schumacher. She took part in most all contests; winning first in the Public Discussion, second in the Essay, second in the Women's Declamation and third in the Story Telling. First place in the Story Telling contest was won by Mark Butterfield. He placed in various other contests. Elise Smith won first place in the Women's Declamation contest, and George Litton placed first in the one held by the men.

These various contests stimulated much interest among the students and it is hoped that they may be held every year.

In addition to these regular scheduled events the girls of the Lenorian and Victorian societies gave a very interesting program consisting of a one-act play, "The Neighbors," several skits, readings, and music which gave a clear illustration of the girls' Literary Societies.

The Music Department brought fame and renown to the Academy by winning four first places out of a possible six in the State Music contests. The Girls' Glee Club, the Mixed Chorus, the Mixed Quartet, and our vocal soloist, Edward Aitken, took first places, while the Double Mixed Quartet and the Men's Quartet took second.

Also in the State contests, Janet Schumacher took second place as an Algebra Student, and Otis Spurlock ranked third in Accounting.

"The Rivals," an eighteenth century comedy, produced by the senior class and directed by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hackett was the outstanding dramatic production of the year.

ACADEMY ATHLETICS

Late in September, the Academy football aspirants, led by Captain Gardner, reported to their new coach, J. C. Pray, and immediately started preparing themselves for their schedule which was to start early in October. After much hard work and strenuous training, the Red and Green gridders met the college varsity in the opening game of the Berea football season. In this contest, the varsity proved a bit too strong for their younger opponents and eked out a well-earned 6-0 victory. But as the season went on, the Academyites proved their real ability by winning their three remaining games, defeating the varsity to redeem themselves for their early season setback, and end the year in a deadlock with college for championship honors.

In Speedball an inter-dormitory series resulted in a school championship for the Williams Building. The Academy All-Star team was defeated by their college opponents for the inter-school title.

Then came basketball, the most popular sport in Berea. From an Academy standpoint, basketball enjoyed its most successful year.

Academy placed second to the strong freshmen aggregation, in the intra-mural series. Here again, the prep school showed its ability to compete very successfully against more experienced opponents. Once they were able to nose out the freshmen, but the other two contests found the frosh winning by a narrow margin.

The Academy was represented for the first time in the Kentucky High School Basketball Tournament. Under the able leadership of "Kat" Gardner, they entered the district meet at Richmond, and successfully turned back the Berea High five in their first start, but fell victims to a powerful Waco quintette by a 16-13 score in the semi-finals. Waco later won the regional tournament and went to the quarter-finals in the state tournament at Lexington.

The Academy track team had high hopes of making a good showing in the state meet held at the University of Kentucky. But the loss of fourteen men from the squad of twenty, due to ineligibility, was too much of a blow, and consequently, the team was unable to maintain its high position of previous years and dropped to fourth place, being able to collect only 10½ points.

With their complete team participating in the field day events, the cinder artists showed what they were capable of doing against strong opposition by giving the college varsity a real fight before being overcome by a 66 2-3 to 57 1-3 count. McKee and Hatten each collected 10 points to share third place honors in point scoring.

MINOR SPORTS

Intra-school activities are rapidly becoming a very important part of the Academy sport program.

The idea is to give every student an opportunity to enter into some phase of athletics.

In previous years, only those skilled enough to make some major sport team were given much chance to develop their athlectic talent in a competitive way.

This year a domitory tournament was conducted both in speedball and basketball. After a long process of elimination, the field was narrowed to the two finalists, who met to determine who was to represent the department against the College winners. The Williams Building won the speedball title. The non-domitory five was crowned champions in basketball; they later defeated the college winners for the institutional championship.

THE ACADEMY WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Academy Women's Athletic Association has had a most successful and happy year and is eagerly looking forward to a new year of even greater opportunities.

ARCHERY: The Academy Maid Marions are learning to handle their bows quite skillfully, so be careful Robin Hoods. The Order of the Golden Tassel, the exclusive archery club, invites archers to become members when they have completed a score of 500 points. The Archery Manager was admitted last fall.

SOCCER: The rain curtailed our efforts in this sport by closing the season early and uneventfully.

SWIMMING: We had several pass their Red Cross Life Saving Test this winter. In the spring swimming meet we took second place.

BASKETBALL: We came in second in the tournament. There was a very close and fast game with the College Freshmen; a hard struggle with the College Sophomores; but an easy time with the College Upper Classmen. Old Age we think!

HIKING: Walk a mile, Rest a while, Thru spring and fall, Not mind at all, 100 miles means 100 points, So limber up, Move the joints.

FIELD & TRACK: We showed what we could do in the way of high jumping, broad jumping and the dash in the Field Day, by winning the highest honors.

BASEBALL: C'mon home! Don't stop! We hope we do not until the Tournament is over. We have won the first game of the season so C'mon home! Don't stop!

TENNIS: We hope the Weather Man will permit us to finish our Tournament and that Father Time and Grandfather "Exam" will not interfere so that the winner of our Tournament can play the winner of the College Tournament.
